

 Forward to a Friend

January 8, 2018

Dear Neighbor,

Happy New Year! I hope everyone had a fantastic 2017.

District 1 accomplished many important things in the area of neighborhoods, infrastructure, equality, and culture. I look forward to getting even more done for you in 2018.

I will be resuming Councilman to Community this month in the Alta Vista neighborhood. Please let your neighbors know that District 1, City of San Antonio departments, and several relevant community organizations like SAWS and CPS will be at the Hindes School of Art OR Mark Twain Middle School on January 20th

I am also in the process of planning the annual District 1 Property Tax Forum in April. The goal of this forum is to bring leadership from the Bexar County Appraisal District to you, so you can learn about important information and resources related to your property taxes.

My goals for 2018 will continue to focus on neighborhoods, infrastructure, and innovation. Please contact my office with any comments or questions.

Yours in service,

Roberto C. Treviño
City Councilman
District 1

P.S. I will be giving a presentation at the next Mayor's Housing Task Force which details the impact of property taxes across different segments of the population. The meeting takes place Tuesday, January 9th at 5:30 in the Municipal Plaza B-Room.

San Antonio Crime Update

This week, SAPD released their crime report for 2017. The data showed a 6% decrease in violent crime and a 16% drop in homicides.

While the data is positive, I want to remind everyone that community policing works best when neighbors look out for neighbors. I pledge to keep the public safety conversation going by continuing to host public safety forums like the one in December.

Treviño continues advocacy for LGBT community, partners with Metropolitan Methodist Hospital and

Pride Center to find a permanent home for the Center

Councilman Roberto Treviño and Pride Center San Antonio kicked off the New Year with the announcement that the Center now has a permanent home on the Metropolitan Methodist Hospital campus. Over the past two years, the District 1 Councilman and Pride Center leadership worked together to find a space near the historic home of San Antonio's LGBTQ+ community.

Currently, the Pride Center San Antonio is based out of a small shared administrative office off North Saint Mary's.

"I am grateful Pride Center San Antonio now has a permanent home where they can better serve the LGBTQ+ community," said Treviño. "Our city wins anytime elected leaders help to connect important organizations like the Pride Center in need connect with great community partners like Metropolitan Methodist Hospital. Such partnerships illustrate San Antonio is a place of equality and inclusion, and we care about all of our residents."

The new Pride Center will be located in the Metropolitan Professional Building on McCullough, and will have enough room to conduct meetings, host classes, take walk-ins, and provide service referrals to those in need.

"In these uncertain times, the opening of a safe space in San Antonio is long overdue. As the seventh largest city, not having a walk-in facility was no longer an option. It was this that drove the leadership team to build and strengthen relationships across the city; to include city officials, nonprofits, private businesses and corporations to achieve this goal," said Robert Salcido, volunteer executive director and board chair of The Pride Center. "Of these relationships, Councilman Roberto Trevino connected us to others who shared our vision of a more inclusive San Antonio. Ultimately, a partnership with Methodist Healthcare System was the best fit to help fully deliver our mission and vision to the community. This transformational investment by Methodist will help solidify our vision to serve all LGBTQ+ San Antonians who will look to The Center in the years ahead for a range of services that meets their unique needs." said Salcido.

The agreement is a private lease between Metropolitan Methodist Hospital and the Pride Center San Antonio. Metropolitan Methodist Hospital has a history of supporting the LGBTQ+ community as it has earned the Human Rights Campaign (HRC) Foundation's Leader in LGBTQ+ Healthcare Equality ranking in HRC's Healthcare Equality Index (HEI) for the last two years.

"Metropolitan Methodist Hospital is proud to be the first and only hospital in San Antonio ranked as a leader in having processes and policies in place that show equity and inclusion of LGBTQ+ patients, visitors and employees. Providing a permanent home for the Pride Center is another way of extending our support for the LGBTQ+ community," states Greg Seiler, CEO of Metropolitan Methodist Hospital. "Our core competency is building partnerships in community and our collaboration with Councilman Treviño and the Pride Center is a perfect example of our commitment to that guiding principle," added Seiler.

The new headquarters is expected to open in Spring 2018.
